AIRLINE UPDATE

Flying With Social Distancing

With daily reports coming from the leading newspapers it seems like aviation is going to be tough in the post lockdown period. Social distancing has become a buzz already and it's going to be no different for the Airlines industry. According to a recent report from Business Standard, the Airlines will have to follow few stringent rules for several months after the services resume. The Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA) has set up a Standard Operating Procedure which will be mandatory for Airlines to keep all middle seats and last three rows empty to reduce contact. With this, the social distancing will be ensured and also a passenger can be isolated if he / she develops any symptom mid air.

Moreover according to a recent announcement by DGCA, all domestic and international scheduled airline operations shall remain suspended till 11:59 pm of 3rd May 2020.
